

A Stunning Beaux-Arts Mansion On New York's Riverside Drive Hits The Market For $65 Million

Outdoor area and views like this home's are unusual in New York City.

LPG for Sotheby's International Realty

On the hill corner of 75th Street and Riverside Drive is a unusual single-family manor home with 3 sides of outside direct exposure and sweeping river and palisades views. The palatial Beaux-Arts estate was created by kept in mind New York designer Charles P. Gilbert for Herbert Horace Vail, chairman of the American Book Company. Completed in 1905, it had a careful restoration, which was finished in early 2022. A house of this scale, information, and size is seldom readily available in NYC. Now it is for sale for $65 million.

A unusual corner lot and hill area makes for fantastic views.

Rise Media for Sotheby's International Realty

With 8 bedrooms, 8 restrooms and 2 half baths, the house incorporates over 12,000 square feet. It has an above-grade basement and procedures 30 feet in width.

A current restoration fills the historical structure with contemporary touches

RISE MEDIA FOR SOTHEBY'S INTERNATIONAL REALTY

Rooms function skyrocketing 12 to 14-foot high ceilings. When built, products were sourced around the world for woodwork to total the glamorous decoration of the home. The principal spaces are retrofitted with unique woods. The baths are onyx piece, marble and tile, and all showers are steam. There is a mahogany theater that seats 20 with a woodburning fireplace, a distinct Mueller pottery fireplace and a library covered in chestnut wood. The house consists of 3 kitchen areas, 6 fireplaces and an elevator to all 7 floorings. The floor covering is centuries old and imported from Parisian palaces. Modern components and information produce a grand house with a forward-thinking style edge.

Grand areas and fine woodwork on the primary flooring.

RISE MEDIA FOR SOTHEBY'S INTERNATIONAL REALTY

The personnel quarters consist of a cooking area, bath with a different entryway, a health club, red wine cellar, workplace and storage spaces perfect for a range of leisure devices.

Outdoor balconies adjacent bedroom suites on 4 floorings ignore sunset views from Riverside Park. The amusing flooring has initial coffered cork-lined ceilings, and consists of a chef's kitchen area with 2 ovens, 2 copper sinks, 2 dishwashing machines and 2 fridges. The 4th flooring research study has valuable and stunning Tiffany and LeFarge stained-glass doors.

Fine woodwork lines the library.

RISE MEDIA FOR SOTHEBY'S INTERNATIONAL REALTY

The piece de resistance on the 6th flooring landing consists of a glass conservatory with sweeping 180-degree views and a balcony big sufficient to seat 100.

Even the restrooms are big, glamorous and fireplaces.

RISE MEDIA FOR SOTHEBY'S INTERNATIONAL REALTY

A Reis household trust has actually owned the house given that the 1990s. Dina Reis, a world class art and furnishings style collector, is an consultant to the trust who just recently revamped the house. Nearly 20 years after a infamous felony conviction, she now dedicates her time to assisting produce and encourage on corrective justice programs.

Source: A Stunning Beaux-Arts Mansion On New York's Riverside Drive Hits The Market For \$65 Million.