As the rain put down and he seen his group meekly lose at Burnley, Antonio Conte looked cold, damp and completely unpleasant.

The Tottenham Hotspur supervisor saw Spurs put in another bad efficiency in the 1-0 defeat, the club's 4th defeat in its last 5 league matches.

What need to have actually been similarly annoying to Conte was that this defeat came just 4 days after Spurs' finest efficiency of the season. Inspired by Harry Kane, the Londoners produced a big upset win at champ Manchester City.

After that match, Conte explained his team as "one of the finest group of gamers I have worked with in my profession".

Yesterday, after defeat to Burnley, he was less gushing.

"The gamers are constantly the exact same, the club has altered the coaches, however the gamers are constantly the exact same," he stated.

Such was Conte's dissatisfaction, he dropped strong tips he might walk away from the club he just signed up with in November.

"I came here to assistance the club and if the issue might be the coach I'm prepared to go, no issue," he stated, as reported by BBC Sport.

"I came in to shot to enhance the circumstance. Maybe in this minute I am not so great to enhance the scenario. I am too truthful to close my eyes and continue in this method.

"For sure we are to speak and have a discussion with the club to shot and discover the finest option to aid the group not have this type of circumstance.

“It is the right minute to make evaluation. I repeat, I am actually irritated.”

Spurs understood what it was getting when it employed Conte.

He is certainly a top-notch coach with a extremely excellent CV. His consultation was likewise a gamble.

Conte has constantly been an psychological and enthusiastic coach – and one who dislikes losing. Even in his four-month spell with Spurs, he has currently provided numerous thinly-veiled messages to reveal his disappointment.

At various points, he has stated the task is his “biggest difficulty”, that the team was damaged after the January transfer window and that Spurs “can’t make more errors” in the transfer market.

This is the veryfirst time he has recommended he is not the finest individual for the task.

But, while Spurs understood what it was getting in Conte, Conte likewise understood what he was getting in Spurs.

He has stated he is more utilized to tough for the title than the leading 4, which is real, however that isn’t the case for Spurs.

The club last won the champion in 1961 and the closest it hasactually come in current years was the 2016/17 season, when it endedup 2nd, 7 points behind Chelsea, then handled by Conte.

In the January transfer window, Spurs got rid of the gamers Conte apparently didn’t trust and brought in 2 replacements. Perhaps this was inadequate in Conte’s mind. But he understands Spurs does not have the verysame costs power as the Premier League’s top 3 of Manchester City, Liverpool and Chelsea.

The truth is, a top-four surface and credentials for the Champions League would be a great outcome for Spurs this season. Some of the additional earnings might be put towards conditioning the team with gamers Conte desires.

If Spurs keeps playing like it did theotherday, the leading 4 looks a long method off. But there is still time to restore the season.

Currently 8th, Spurs is just 7 points behind fourth-placed Manchester United, having actually played 2 matches less.

Conte's agreement runs to the end of next season. He has the regard of the Spurs fanbase and, if he leaves prior to the end of the season, it appears most likely much of the blame would be positioned on chairman Daniel Levy.

That might alter, though, if Conte's unfavorable remarks continue. Yes, this team might not be at the levels of previous ones he has handled. A huge part of his task, though, is enhancing the group and, eventually, getting results with the gamers he has.

Whichever method he paints it, walking away now would be a failure for Conte. But, if he really doesn't think he can motivate much better efficiencies from his group, he might see that as his finest choice.
